HOST YOUR PERFECT BABY SHOWER

A baby shower is a sweet way to celebrate your little one on the way with all those closest to you. It's also a fun way to get all the baby essentials you will need thanks to the gifts your guests will buy off your registry (if you plan on making one!).

Anyone in an expectant parent's life can host the baby shower, including friends, relatives, and even partners. Or the parent-to-be can throw it on their own.

SAMPLE OF GAMES YOU COULD PLAY:

Fun Games and Activities

Baby showers usually last between two to four hours. Having games and activities throughout the event can help keep guests entertained. There are ton of different ones to choose from, but here are some popular options you may want to add:

Guess the number of candies:

Get a big baby bottle and add jellybeans or wrapped mini chocolates inside and have guests write down their guess of how many are inside. The winner gets to take it home.

Diaper raffle:

Give a raffle to guests who bring a pack of diapers for the baby-to-be. Whoever wins the raffle at the end of the event gets a gift.

Onesie decorating station:

Have a small section where guests can decorate a baby onesie with markers. If your venue doesn't have space for that, this can also be done wherever guests are sitting.

Guess the candy bar:

Melt different kinds of chocolate bars separately and pour one type in a baby diaper. Label each diaper with a number that matches each specific candy bar. Offer a prize for the person who guesses the most candy bars correctly.

Wishes for the baby:

Have a section where guests can write down wishes for the baby-to-be on paper and hang them on a clothesline. Make it cute by getting paper that fits the baby shower theme.

Advice cards: Pass around cards where guests can write their best advice for the parent-to-be. These will be fun (and helpful!) for the parent to read before and even after the baby arrives.

Baby trivia:

You can create your own trivia card, or download and print one from the internet. The guest that guesses the most answers correctly wins a prize.
